

Weekly MVP Winner!

Our second player of the week has been drawn and the winner is Veronica Xia of the Novice White team.

Coach Darren submitted this following nomination:

Even though we had no games this week, we can always rely on Veronica as the teams top defenceman. She is a true student of the game and displays remarkable poise on the blueline for a first year player. She has made some amazing defensive plays this season helping our team to a 8-3-1 record so far. Her focus, along with her sister Alison, is among the best I have seen in our organization.

I can see Veronica going far in the sport of hockey.

Congratulations Veronica. You are one of our team's natural leaders.

Coach Darren

We had several other well deserving nominees this week:
